

Council of Traditional Chinese Medicine & Acupuncture Schools of Ontario
Working together to achieve the highest educational and professional standards

August 27th, 2015

To whom it may concern :

The Council of Traditional Chinese Medicine and Acupuncture Schools of Ontario (CTCMASO) is pleased to introduce you to our organization.

Our member institutions represent the majority of the professional training programs for Traditional Chinese Medicine and Acupuncture operating in Ontario. As such, our members currently include:

- Eight Branches Academy of Eastern Medicine (EBAEM)
- International Academy of Traditional Chinese Medicine (IATCM)
- John and Jenny TCM College (JJTCMC)
- Ontario College of Traditional Chinese Medicine (OCTCM)
- Shiatsu School of Canada (SSC)
- Toronto School of Traditional Chinese Medicine (TSTCM)

We formed our organization to be a vehicle for structured liaison between member institutions and governmental or regulatory bodies. We advocate for the advancement of education and professional standards for Traditional Chinese Medicine and Acupuncture in Ontario. We improve the reputation and legitimacy of our professional training programs by aiding member institutions in implementing higher educational standards. We serve as a resource regarding legislative or public issues affecting TCM and Acupuncture education, and support initiatives concerned with regulation and accreditation. We support our member institutions in delivering educational excellence and in translating education to quality patient care. We promote professional practices within the TCM and Acupuncture industry and cultivate relationships with other healthcare professionals and educational organizations.
